

Network and Media Controller

Product Description- An integrated network controller for a proprietary RS485 based protocol, serving > 200 LCD screens to each user interface. This was combined with a multimedia controller for wireless digital and wired analog audio, along with lighting control.

SMT Contribution- All aspects of the electronic hardware and firmware.

Success- The product's introduction has resulted in very high demand for the customer, and has led to derivative products.

