

Refrigeration Control

Product Description- A high-end residential refrigeration control with a custom LCD and a multitude of advanced features, including data logging and error tracking.

SMT Contribution- Began with development of low-level product and component specifications, and proceeded to the entire design for the 2-board platform, along with support software for system configuration and data downloading. All UL and EMC testing was also performed by SMT.

Success- The platform has been expanded to replace all other electronics in the product family, while contributing a significant leap in quality.
